Foreword...

THE 1942 WILEYAN

Gentle readers, here's the 1942 Wileyan! It is made of yawns and yearnings, the spirit of eternal youth. There are yawns for the spring-fever days when the staff has spent endless hours working on the yearbook when they might have been outdoors enjoying a game of golf or tete-a-tete with the beloved; there are yearnings for the days to come when all our dreams will come true. You can guess what those dreams are by a study of the class pictures, the cuts showing Blue-Tri activities, the International Day assembly, the athletic squads—in fact, all of the precious memories of the school year now drawing to a close.

Someone has very aptly said that we cannot live normal lives in abnormal times, yet Wiley, despite all of the shocks of war, has tried to carry on courageously. The 1942 Wileyan is mute evidence of that fact, for with the staff it has been business as usual.

The staff hopes that you, the student body and faculty, will enjoy the 1942 Wileyan, and long after the war is over, will review the book and be convinced that the old Red and White was the happiest, most pleasant spot during the chaotic days of 1942.

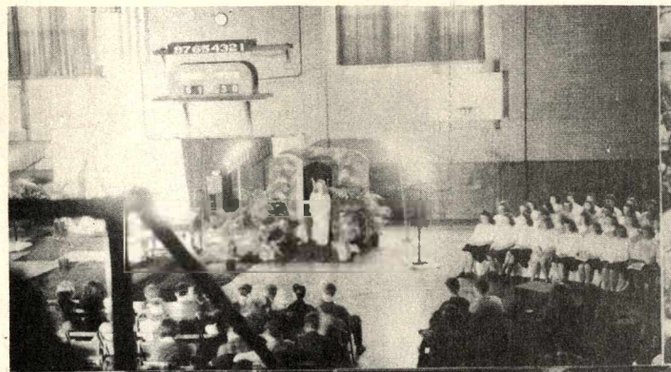
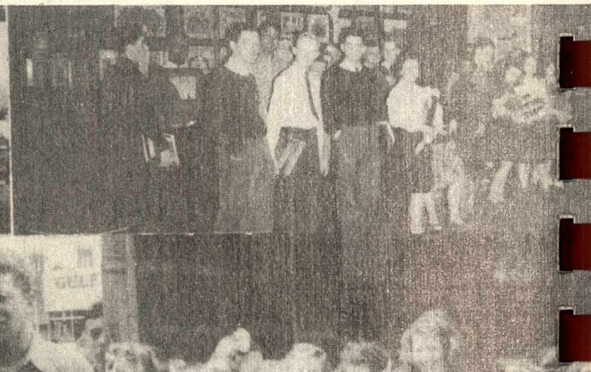
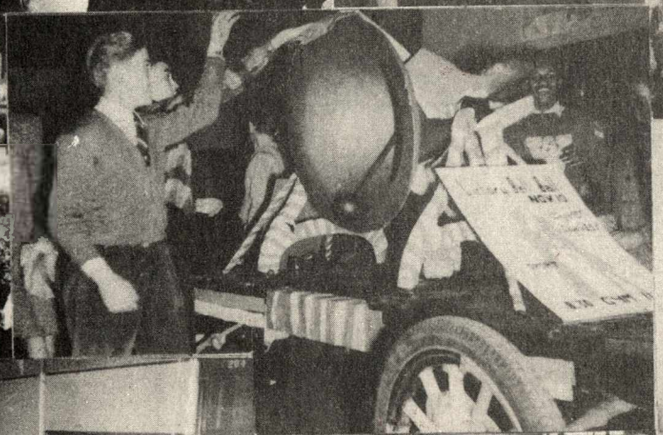
Wiley students definitely have a spirit. They can always be found at any excitement, and more than likely are responsible. The Wiley spirit shows itself in all phases of student activity, at the games, in the classrooms, and over the town in general. We cannot say that Wileyittes are perfect, but at the least, their outlook on life is different.







School is out at 3:20 but the school life goes on, unaffected by time or place. It's as though Wiley instilled into its students a feeling of unity, cooperation, and an appreciation of fun coupled with seriousness; and work coupled with play.

Seniors...

The graduating class of June 1942, has certainly been one of the finest in the history of Wiley. The class ranked exceedingly high in scholarship and participated successfully in many phases of extra curricular activity. Many of the athletic teams, musical organizations, speech groups, and varied clubs of Wiley were under the leadership of the members of the class of 1942.

The Senior Class staged the Annual Farewell late in May which was, as usual, a huge success. The Senior Assembly revealed some of the dignified seniors as slapstick comedians.

The members of the class of 1942 have contributed much to Wiley during their three year stay, and in turn have received a rich heritage from Wiley which will serve them the rest of their lives.

GOOD LUCK SENIORS. May your triumphs continue and your future be as bright and successful as your three years at Wiley.

The Junior Class of 1943 started right off with selecting the rings to represent the class of that year. The next big event on the Junior Calendar was their annual assembly. This year it was in the form of a quiz program. As usual it was better than ever. All enjoyed it. The Junior Prom winds up the Junior year. The dance was enjoyed from Wayne McIntyre's opening strains to his closing dance.

Band...

Wiley is proud of its band. The Wiley band has co-operated throughout the school year of 1942 with other organizations and clubs in the school and many civic organizations. The high-stepping redcoats appeared at all home football games and took one road trip, getting well deserved praise wherever they went. The precision formations at the football games were result of hours of hard work. The marching band introduced formations at basketball games last year, and again this year presented outstanding entertainment during the intermissions.

The concert band of over seventy pieces has appeared in several public concerts, rendering stirring marches and overtures, and beautiful symphonic arrangements. The soloists and ensembles who entered the state solo and ensemble contest won high honors. Wiley musicians were awarded ten first divisions in this contest.

The band is under the direction of John Bright.

WILEY'S HI-Y CLUB

Wiley's Hi-Y Club under the sponsorship of Mr. Proffitt enjoyed a successful year. This club, which at the present has a membership totaling thirty-six is striving to maintain those standards which result in the creation, maintenance and extension of high standards of Christian character in order that they may permeate both the school and the community.

The officers of this club for the past year that have led their fellow students are: Don McCarty, President; Bob Flack, Vice-President; Jim Cox, Secretary; Paul Benning, Treasurer, and Clarence Bigler, Chaplain.

The Wiley club has taken part in an all-city dance which was a huge success, an Easter breakfast, a party, a treasure hunt, and with the Blue Tri presented a very beautiful and impressive Easter assembly.

The club is divided up into five standing committees namely: program, initiation, entertainment, membership, and book store. Every member is placed on one of these committees and is expected to cooperate to the best of his ability.
